

CELEBRATE THEIR NATION'S HOLIDAY

Norwegians of Rhinelander Hold Big Festivities Friday Night

The 17th of May, Norway's great independence day, was fittingly observed by the Norwegian population of Rhinelander, Friday night. The celebration was held at the Scandinavian hall on North Brown street under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of Norway. A fair sized crowd attended and the program was successfully carried out in every particular.

Mr. Sig. Swanson, chairman of the committee in charge, bid the audience welcome after which those present arose and sang Norway's national hymn, "Ja vi elsker."

Then came the following program:

Address, Gustave Schilbred.
Song, Male Choir.
Violin Solo, Willis Helgeson.
Song, Male Choir.
Violin Solo, Mr. Helgeson.
Song, Male Choir.

Selections by male quartette.
Refreshments were served after which the floor was cleared and dancing was indulged in until mid night.

Many people, not Norwegians, joined in the festivities.

"Syttende Mai," was celebrated by the thousands of the sons and daughters of Norway scattered over the Northwest. The day was the ninety-eighth anniversary of the promulgation of the constitution of Norway by a popular assembly which convened at Eidsvold, and after drafting a constitution and declared Norway a free and independent nation. In many Norwegian centers in Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas, the festivities in observance of the anniversary continued over Saturday and Sunday.

RECEIVES FIRST PLACE

Minocqua Girl Is Winner In Declamatory Contest

Miss Margaret Marvin of Minocqua was awarded first place in the District Declamatory Contest which was held in the Wausau High school auditorium May 17th. The judges: Pres. J. F. Sims of the Stevens Point Normal, Principal A. H. Cole of the Lincoln County Training school and Principal B. Mack Dresden of the Oneida County Training school, were unanimous in awarding her the first place. This victory brings great honor to Oneida county as Miss Marvin had to contest against students from the much larger high schools at Neillsville, Wausau, Grand Rapids, Colby, Phillips, Hancock and Weyauwega. The contestants coming from these eight schools were young women who had won out in two preliminary contests and who thus represented the best talent from about twenty-four high schools.

Miss Marvin is a member of this year's graduating class in Minocqua and expects to teach in the county next year.

As a result of her victory, she will represent this district in the state contest to be held at Delevan, Friday, May 25th.

JOINED IN MATRIMONY

Miss Mabel Monroe of Shawano and Fred Anderson of this city were married by County Clerk Carr at the Carr residence Saturday.

The young couple will leave within a week for the groom's farm near Green Bay where they will make their home.

ORGANIZING NEW LODGE

Otto Johnson of Eau Claire is in the city for the purpose of organizing a local branch of the I. S. W. A. A large number of candidates have signed applications and a lodge will no doubt be established next week.

GRADUATES WILL NUMBER THIRTY

Class Is One of the Largest in the History of the High School

The High school is the scene of unusual activity among teachers and students as preparations are under way for commencement next week. The graduation class this year is one of the largest to ever leave the Rhinelander High school, numbering thirty. The complete list is as follows:

William Willette, Lulu Irene Moore, Wilbur H. Gleason, Thomas W. Hagan, Arthur Thomas McDermott, Marian Elizabeth Holland, Catherine Evelyn Lally, Edna Mae Panabaker, Ray Joseph Rheume, Myrtle A. Dunn, Leo James Reynolds, Irvin F. Sheffer, Edith M. S. Blomdahl, Olga Johnson, E. Clarisse Smith, Genevieve M. Woodcock, Irene McLaughlin, Myrtle Bertha Schuelke, Mary Elizabeth McIndoe, Ruth Eva Millard, Bertha M. Tegatz, Douglas Rogers Foster, Chester Dorr Packard, Mabel Elizabeth White, Susan Alice Millard, Katherine Anna Easton, Rose M. Lancelle, Glen Riley LaPage, Joseph H. McElrone, Vern Edward Redfield.

ALUMNI RECEPTION.

Another feature of the commencement program not previously mentioned is the Alumni reception at the Armory, Thursday evening, May 30. The graduation exercises will be held at the Grand Opera House, Friday evening, May 31. Prof. F. E. Mitchell, of the Oshkosh Normal and one of the state's leading instructors, will be the speaker.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY.

The Senior Class Play entitled "At the End of the Rainbow," will be presented next Wednesday night, May 23, at the Opera House. The class has been practicing diligently for some time under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Kuehnstedt, and indications are that this will be one of the best local talent plays presented here in some years. The play is one that brings in plenty of school spirit of the college sort and gives a chance for some good acting.

On the sign of the Rainbow and be on hand Wednesday evening, May 23. Reserved seats will be on sale at the Variety store beginning Monday, May 27, at 4 o'clock.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Entertainment Association Holds Annual Meeting

The Rhinelander Entertainment Association held its annual meeting in the city council chamber Tuesday night. The regular business was transacted and new officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—B. Mack Dresden.
Secretary—Harry L. Reers.
Treasurer—Chas. Smith.
Chairman Executive Committee—F. A. Harrison.

Second member—Dr. R. C. Richards.

Third member—C. H. Donaldson.

It is the plan of the new officers to continue with the work of the association with fervor in order that the citizens of Rhinelander may have a first class entertainment course the coming season. Steps toward booking the attractions for 1912-13 course will be taken at once.

The association at large heartily wishes its officers all merited success.

LEASE WARE HOUSE

The Larson Fruit House has leased store rooms in the building on King street opposite the Rapids House. The company, of which, Fred Larson of Ironwood and J. B. Plumb of this city are members, received its first carload shipment of fruit and vegetables Thursday and regular shipments will arrive from now on. Mr. Plumb states that business opens under favorable conditions and there is no question but what the company will be well patronized. Mr. Larson was here from Ironwood yesterday.

Mike Mahoney returned Saturday from a trip to Milwaukee.

National Memorial

Airs STAR SPANGLED BANNER Words by
FREDERICK R. NEPES

Oh say can you see by the dawn of the day,
The day set apart for the grave decoration,
The remnant of those who in battle array
Had offered their lives for the life of our Nation;
That the shackle and chain no longer remain,
Nor the slave block its horror our Nation profane?

CHORUS:

Then gather the flowers that grow by the way,
And strew on the graves of the Blue and the Gray.

Oh the havoc of shell and the gloom of the pen,
The ravage of fever, the pang of starvation,
Are past and forgiven by this band of bravemen
Who honor the graves with love and elation.
For the sword now is sheathed, they are resting beneath
The sod and the wave for the freedom of slave.

CHORUS:

Then lovingly cast on the crest of the wave
The tribute of love for the true and the brave.

Then cast on the flowers, deck the monument fair,
In church-yard and park with thy holy reflection;
With malice to none and in charity share
The principles held by the great of each section,
And the flag of the free forever will be
The emblem of peace and of true liberty.

CHORUS:

We will counsel our children to honor the day
That ended the strife 'tween the Blue and the Gray.

RHINELANDER HAS ALL HOME TEAM

Base Ball Club Has Been Launched With Paul Gaston
As Manager

The first genuine all home base ball team that Rhinelander has had for a number of years was organized here a few days ago. Paul Gaston is the manager. While the lineup is not yet complete, two or three positions still vacant, will be filled by the end of the week so that the team will be prepared to play its first game on Decoration Day. This game will be with the Wausau Cubs, a fast semi-professional nine. The home team will appear in neat new uniforms on the opening day.

As no salaries are paid to the players the expense of maintaining the club will be small. It has been planned by the management to make the organization self-supporting as far as possible. Many fans have expressed their willingness to contribute toward a fund to get the team safely launched and after that very little trouble in regard to financial matters is anticipated.

Manager Gaston will make an effort to book a series of good games with teams of the same class in this section of Wisconsin and already has part of his season's schedule arranged. It is his aim to confine the most of the games played to the home grounds.

Base Ball Dance

At Gilligan's hall this evening a dance for the benefit of the new team will be given. The advance sale of tickets has been steady and a large attendance is expected. Music by the Military orchestra.

TWO BABY OWLS

Mike Wheeler is the possessor of two baby owls which he captured while in the woods near Cavour last week. They are cunning little fellows and Mike may present them to the local Nest of Owls for mascots.

PERKINS DEFEATS MILWAUKEE IDOL

Rhinelander Boxer Sends Fred Neidner To The Vale Of Dreams

Bill Perkins, "Gabe" Daniels' protégé, knocked out Fred Neidner, Milwaukee's well known middleweight and find of Paddy Dorrell, at the Grand Opera House in this city, Friday night in round six of a ten round mill. A smash flush on the front of the jaw turned the trick. Neidner's method of boxing with open hands was in the nature of a surprise to the spectators. He succeeded in landing frequently but his blows were as love taps to Perkins.

From the first sound of the gong until Perkins got in his sleep promoter the bout was lively and full of interest. Both boys were in the game for a knockout but the Milwaukee chap did not have the power behind his blows. The majority of the fans at the ringside pronounced it one of the fastest contests ever pulled off here. Tommy Burns, a St. Paul pug, was in Neidner's corner and issued a challenge to Burrell Smith, the local colored boxer, Smith then challenged the winner of the Perkins-Neidner match.

Donna Charette of this city and Harry Moline of Saginaw, Mich., traveled along for five rounds and the contest was decided a draw. "Kid" Belliel of this city, the veteran referee and sporting man refereed both bouts.

PUT ON NIGHT CREW

The Rhinelander Creamery & Produce Company has put on a night crew at its creamery plant in this city. This move was due to the large increase in business and to enable the company to fill all orders promptly.

Col. James Tubbs is back to town after spending two weeks scaling at Brown Bros' camp near Gagen.

RICHARDS TALKS ON TUBERCULOSIS

Rhinelander Physician Discusses White Plague At Training School

Acting as the representative of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Society Dr. Richards of this city, lectured before the Training School Monday forenoon on "Tuberculosis." The lecture was well delivered and of great value to the students.

The doctor explained fully that the tuberculosis germ is a plant which was identified by Dr. Robert Koch in 1882. It is a small rodlike plant, requiring about 5000 to make an inch.

These plants gather in small knots called tubercles. When these knots have developed sufficiently in number, they run together and the result is an ulcer which breaking down the tissue produces hemorrhages and finally death.

Tuberculosis is of many kinds practically every portion of the body is subject to its attacks. Of especial interest to us are the human, bovine and avian types of tuberculosis.

The doctor warned the students against taking patent medicines and advertised cures for consumption. They contain ingredients which hide the symptoms of the disease for a time, but do not stop it. The only known remedy for the disease in its earlier stages is sunlight, good food and rest from labor and worry.

The disease being contagious through the scattering of the germs of dried sputum, patients must be taught to care for their sputum in such a way that it cannot spread the disease to others. The disease ought to be suppressed, because it is especially virulent during the productive ages from 15 to 45 years, causing probably 1-3 of all the deaths taking place between these ages. Rhinelander, for instance, lost 120 in the past 14 years from this disease—10 percent of all the deaths during that time being strictly traceable to tuberculosis.

The doctor explained the law authorizing county boards to establish sanatoria for advanced cases and urged the students to use their influence to bring about the organization of such a sanatorium in this county.

The lecture was one of a series of lectures on hygienic subjects which are to be delivered before the Training school.

FIND MISSING BOY

Park Falls Lad Is Located Not Far
From Rhinelander

Louis Spray, the little Park Falls boy, who disappeared suddenly from his home two weeks ago, was found by an older brother at Bradley west of Rhinelander on the Soo line, after he had tramped all the way from Park Falls. He was weary and hungry after his long walk and ready to return home.

Young Spray, who is twelve years of age, was accused of breaking in to a school house near Park Falls, and fearing arrest he ran away from home. He did not have any money and as no one observed him leaving town his whereabouts were a mystery. His parents, nearly crazed over the lad's disappearance, instituted a thorough search for him and notified the authorities throughout this part of the state to be on the lookout for a boy answering Louis' description. Nothing was seen or heard of him until he was located near Bradley. He was on his way to Harrison, where he formerly resided and where he expected to live with friends.

BOYS PLAY BALL

The "kid" nines of the third and fourth wards met on the diamond Sunday in a closely contested game of base ball. The score was 3 to 4 in favor of the fourth ward boys. Batteries: Fourth ward, Cooper and Cain; third ward, Ruggles and Cain.

LARGER PENSIONS FOR OLD SOLDIERS

Several Veterans In This City Will Benefit By The New Bill

There is rejoicing among the veterans of the civil war who reside in Rhinelander over the new service pension bill passed by congress, which will increase the pension expenditures $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year.

In a letter to the New North Congressman Irving L. Lenroot writes that he is anxious to be of assistance in every way possible to the old soldiers in securing pension increases to which they are entitled. He urges them to communicate with him and he will be glad to send them a copy of the law and a pension application blank so that if under the law they are entitled to an increase they may secure it promptly without the necessity of hiring a pension attorney. There are several survivors of that great conflict between the north and south in this city who will derive benefit under the terms of the new bill.

The maximum rate allowed in the bill as it will go to the President is $30 a month. Any person who served ninety days or more in the civil war, has an honorable discharge and has reached the age of 62 years is entitled under the bill to receive a pension.

The rates are graded according to length of service and the age of the applicant. A man of 62 years who served ninety days gets $13 a month; six months, $13.50; one year, $14; a year and a half, $14.50 a month; two years, $15 a month; two years and a half, $15.50 a month; three years or more, $16 a month. Older men draw larger sums.

Veterans of the civil war wounded or made ill in battle or in line of duty and unfit for manual labor by reason of such disability will be entitled to the maximum rate of $30 a month without regard to length of service or age.

LIVE STOCK SPECIAL

Experiment By The State Proves A Great Success

"More and better live stock" is the slogan that is going to make Wisconsin a more famous live stock state than it now is—and that is saying a good deal. The live stock special train run recently by the Live Stock Breeders' association and the agricultural college accomplished wonders. A carload of animals was taken through the counties in southern and eastern Wisconsin. At each stop the animals were unloaded and lectures were given before the large crowds of farmers who attended. Each lecturer illustrated his points with live animals.

One of the characteristic statements made by Prof. G. C. Humphrey of the college of agriculture in his lecture on dairy cattle is "Every up-to-date dairyman keeps a daily record of his milk and knows the test of each individual cow. This is the basis for economical feeding and for raising the standard of excellence in the dairy herd."

Here is a grain ration fed to the dairy calves in the university herd; It was recommended on the trip by Prof. Humphrey: Whole oats, five parts; wheat bran, three parts; corn meal, one part; oil meal, one part. The live stock special will be in Rhinelander, some time next month.

LOSES VALUABLE HORSE

Monday morning Jake Sweo lost one of the finest horses ever seen in Oneida county. The animal was turned loose with the other horses into pasture, and shortly after being brought to the barn took sick with colic and soon succumbed. One week ago Jake was offered three hundred dollars for the animal. He left last night for Minneapolis to purchase another horse.

Barron—

Barron is the third county to secure a county agricultural representative under the new law. Frank D. Ous of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, comes to Barron county August 1, to study the agricultural problems of the county and to help the farmers. Oneida was the first county to secure a county representative under the new law.

Antigo—

The seventh annual meeting of Group 6, of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, will be held in Antigo on Wednesday, May 23. About 100 bankers belong to this group and about this number will be here and it is possible that a number will bring their wives. W. B. McArthur, cashier of the First National bank, is president of the association and is now engaged in arranging the program in shape. He has a number of good speakers listed and it promises to be a most interesting and profitable meeting. The social part of the program has not yet been determined, but it is likely that the affair will be closed in the evening with a banquet.

Gladstone—

The dates for the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Volunteer Firemen's association here have been set for July 31 and Aug. 1 and 2. The city has been making extensive plans for the entertainment of the thousands of visitors who will be guests of Gladstone during tournament week. Besides the contests between the different cities and towns sending teams there will be numerous other attractions such as a carnival company, carrying twenty shows, an air ship, and etc.

Hurley—

Wm. Kulawicz, a well known Bessemer young man, was found dead in bed in the Hotel Lenox, Duluth. Authorities at Duluth stated his death was due to acute spinal meningitis. The parents of the young man, however, believe that he met with foul play as his left jaw was broken, his body badly bruised and finger marks on his wrists. His watch and money were also missing. When he retired to his room at the Lenox he was apparently in the best of health.

Ladysmith—

Gold has been found in Appollonia. There is no question about this, and what is of great importance, in paying quantities. While B. E. Kepner was digging a post hole in front of the drug store he noticed the sand and gravel was filled with yellow specks that looked like gold. A pan was secured, and the sand and gravel were washed. At the bottom a large number of coarse grains resembling gold, about the size of an onion seed were found. On putting them to the acid test, they proved to be pure gold. Nothing has been done yet toward a regular analysis of the gravel but one will be made, when it will be found just how much to the ton the sand bears.

Ironwood—

The death list of the accident at the Norrie mine will total seven. Six of the thirteen miners caught in the cave-in were rescued after being entombed for twenty-four hours. The men were in good condition considering their terrible experience and no trouble was had in getting them out.

Escanaba—

C. H. Rutledge, upper peninsula agent for the anti-saloon league, unknowningly exchanged traveling bags with a whiskey salesman, at the New Ludington hotel and traveled the entire distance to Gladstone with the contaminated property in his possession. Samuel Levy representative of the Beach Hill Distilling company of Cincinnati, was the victim of the anti-saloon league representative's error. As soon as Levy discovered that Rutledge was traveling about the district with goods in his possession that were decidedly adverse to his job he gave chase and caught Rutledge at the Gladstone hotel where an exchange of grips was effected and the whiskey salesman received back his property.

Washburn—

Supervisor of Assessments William Landraint of this district claims fraudulent methods have been employed to evade the income tax law. Landraint says that he will summon a large number of citizens of the district to appear before the board of review. He claims that in a large number of cases the blanks were not filled out properly. Of the 1000 blanks received by the income tax assessor fully 500 have been returned to be made out properly.

Grand Rapids—

The paper mill owned by the Centralia Paper & Pulp company, a part of the Nekoosa Edwards plant at South Grand Rapids, burned Sunday during a severe electrical storm which probably burned the insulation off the wires. The main part of the mill is a total loss, amounting to about $100,000.

The mill was in the course of reconstruction, new walls having been built recently, to replace the old ones. The insurance covers about two-thirds of the loss sustained.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here Backed By Rhinelander Testimony

Don't take our word for it.

Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read Rhinelander endorsement.

Read the statements of Rhinelander citizens.

And decide for yourself.

Here is one case of it:

Mrs. Frank Polebitski, 134 E. Mercer St., Rhinelander, Wis., says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an excellent kidney medicine and I advise their use in all cases of kidney trouble. My back ached constantly and there were pains across my loins, caused by disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured from Reardon's Drug Store and I am glad to make the fact known that they gave me great relief."

WISCONSIN LEADS

According to a statement, just issued by Director Drand of the bureau of the census, Wisconsin leads the entire country in the production of butter. The census figures show that this state, in a single year, produced 131,049,690 pounds of butter, valued at $36,623,000.

It will be of further interest to know that during the year 1909, the period covered by the census statisticians, Wisconsin produced more butter than New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware, Florida, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Oregon and Indiana all combined. And the most interesting feature of the whole situation is the fact that Wisconsin can easily double her butter product if she will—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

SPENCER ON NEW JOB

Dr. L. E. Spencer of Wausau, newly appointed state sanitary inspector, an office recently created, is visiting cities in southwestern Wisconsin to investigate sanitary conditions. A general crusade throughout the state will be made with a view to remedying unhealthful conditions in hotels, public buildings, and in communities as a whole. Dr. Spencer's resignation from the state board of health has just been accepted by Gov. Mc-Govern.

SELL BEACH HOTEL

A. J. McClain and W. A. Curtis of Chicago are negotiating with J. M. Burns for the purchase of the Beach Hotel at Pelican Lake. It is reported that the deal is about closed.

Both Mr. McClain and Mr. Curtis have interests in this part of the state. The latter gentleman is assistant manager for Montgomery Ward & Company.

Brass Bed Bargain!

Through a mistake of the shippers I received this week a higher priced BRASS BED than I had ordered. Although having the privilege to return the goods, I will offer them at near cost to any one desiring a high quality brass bed. Now is your chance. The opportunity is rare, who will grasp it.

Memorial Tribute and Sentiment

NO MORE shall the war cry sever,
Or winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead!

Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Love and tears for the Blue,
Tears and love for the Gray.

—Francis Miles Finch.

My Captain does not answer,
His lips are pale and still;
My father does not feel my arm, he has no pulse nor will;
The ship is anchored safe and sound,
Its voyage closed and done;
From fearful trip the victor ship comes in with object won!

Exult, O shores, and ring, O bells!
But I, with mournful tread,
Walk the deck, my Captain lies,
Fallen cold and dead.

—Walt Whitman.

Strike not one jewel from the crest
The loving mother weeps;
Reset the gems upon her breast,
Each where it stood before,
Clasp in the glorious cynosure
The whole dear Thirty-Four.

—Samuel Francis Smith.

After all—
Hark! from the heights
the clear, strong clarion call—
And the command imperious:
"Stand forth,
Sons of the South and brothers of the North!
Stand forth and be
As one on soil and sea—
Your country's honor more Than empire's worth!"

—Frank Leiby Stanton.

Honor to them! Far graves today are ringing
Up through the soil peace-blooms
to meet the sun,
And dashed heads through summer
winds are singing
Their long "well done."

—Irene Fowler Brown.

MINGLING OF BLUE AND GRAY

Suggestion for One Common Memorial Day While Yet the Veterans Are With Us.

Early in 1866, just after the close of the Civil war, Mrs. Mary A. W. Howard, widow of a confederate officer, suggested the setting apart of a day for placing flowers on graves of confederate soldiers and for appropriate memorial exercises. The idea was received with general approval, and April 26, that year, was made the occasion for the first confederate memorial observance.

This southern idea appealed to the sentiments of men and women of the north as worthy of imitation. In 1868, Gen. John A. Logan, then national commander of the Grand Army, issued an order calling for Memorial day exercises May 30.

The latter date has been retained as the time for the annual decoration of union soldiers' graves and public exercises commemorative of the lives and deeds of the men in blue. The ex-confederates in most of the states have continued to observe April 26, though the custom is not uniform.

On both sides, the rosters of the survivors who will participate in the memorial exercises are decreasing sadly, fearfully. In a comparatively short time all will have joined their comrades "on fame's eternal camping grounds."

There still is left time for both sides to unite in observing a general Memorial day. Nothing in all the world's history was ever so impressive as would be the mingling of the blue and gray in paying mutual tribute to the dead of the two armies who fought each other in the awful days of '61 to '65. Why not signalize present conditions and glorify future prospects by such an observance?—Col. M. A. Adrich.

IN DEFENSE OF STATE FORESTER

Myron H. Thompson Replies To Recent Article In Rhinelander News

Editor New North:—
Dear Sir:

The issue of the Rhinelander News under date of May 10th, 1912, contains an editorial under the heading "A Disastrous Policy" which contains so many misstatements that I cannot allow it to go unchallenged.

The News goes on to state relative to the damage Mr. E. M. Griffith has done to Oneida county in regards to State Forestry, saying he has done more damage than any one man that has been in office. Now maybe Mr. Payne wrote this but I doubt it as he is not in a position to know the facts and would have to write it as hearsay, which would be very wrong for a man of your standing and if you allowed it to be printed without the man that wrote it signing his name you are wrong again.

Now here is the forester business in the northern part of Oneida county. Under my patrol the state owns 10,000 acres of what he calls A No. 1 farming land, and out of the 10,000 acres there is 7,000 acres all swamp covered with small tamarack, small spruce, and hay marshes that the lumbermen would not pay taxes on some 10 or 12 years ago and this was allowed to go back to the county for taxes; the county in turn letting it go back to the state. After the lumbermen got through stripping this land 10 years ago could be bought for 50 cents an acre; now that the state virtually had this land thrown at them and are trying to make some use of it by starting the young growth, the sore heads that did not have the fore sight to buy some of this land at 50 cents an acre have their hammers out and the one that does the most knocking is the one that never gets outside the city limits.

As far as the statement made reference to the state refusing to let towns build roads through these lands, there is not an ounce of truth in this. It is an absolute falsehood, the state will even build a road and open up the country to let settlers out. They opened one last fall, in 38-39 a road 12 miles long which a jack rabbit could not get through until they came and when we came to a farmer's home and wanted to cross his land he was worse than Mr. Dietz but finally we did get permission to cross.

As the state is buying up land cheap, this is a free country, why doesn't Mr. Payne and his backers that want to do so much for Rhinelander and Oneida county, buy up some of this cheap land and sell it to the Poor Man. This would help boom this territory. When he says that it is poor policy to let the rich have those lands for play grounds he is wrong again, for they come in our country and leave their money instead of going to Maine or some other state. The poor settler has a chance to get some of this money. We have a sample of this at Three Lakes, in the northeast part of this county, there are 1500 to 2000 every year come to this point. Go over and ask any of these farmers or settlers if they are a damage to our country and you will soon find that they are glad to have them come.

Now as a Federal Patrolman and one that knows the conditions as they exist and what our orders are from that AWFUL man Griffith, I am of the opinion that the state is from 10 to 15 years late in starting this Forestry Service. It is the idea of some people that all we are here for is to protect nothing except state property. In this they are wrong. Orders are to look after the poor farmers as well as the rich lumbermen.

It is easy to set back and knock every new proposition that comes up but if we would all turn in and boost for Oneida county we would all be farther ahead in the long run. It certainly does not bring settlers in to hold up our short comings at every opportunity, and especially printing articles before the facts have been thoroughly investigated and found correct.

M. H. THOMPSON.

BOYS TAKE WARNING

Probably there are numerous boys in Rhinelander who do not know that there is a law providing that a boy under sixteen who smokes is liable to a fine of $10. If the boy smokes while in the company of an adult, the latter is also liable to a $10 fine.

DRAWS KNIFE ON BRAKEMAN

Albert Wilson Of Jennings Lands In Municipal Court

In Municipal court Monday morning Albert Wilson of Jennings was fined $10 and trimmings for assault upon Fred Hine, a brakeman on the Grandon branch of the Northwestern road.

Wilson, according to witnesses, attempted to board the train while in an intoxicated condition and was refused permission to ride by Hine. Becoming angry he rushed at the brakeman with a long bladed knife. The trainman just narrowly averted receiving an injury by suddenly raising his right foot and kicking Wilson square in the face, knocking him down.

Wilson was arrested and brought to this city and arraigned before Judge Walker. He made no defense and was imposed with the above fine. The man is a Kentuckian and is said to be troublesome when under the influence of liquor.

QUITE TRUE

An exchange very aptly sizes up the school question as follows: Some years ago a school teacher had to reckon only with the scholars, but now it seems that the teacher often has to reckon with the parents of many of the scholars as well. This thing of the scholars taking petty troubles home to parents and magnifying them was not allowable in years gone by. If any of us youngsters were to do anything like that we would have been walloped twice, once at home and once at school. Nowadays, too often the parents side with the children in their story of imaginary wrongs, and a school quarrel results.

PERKINS VS. SMITH

The little interest taken in the last two boxing shows will, it is believed, cause a lull in the sport here until fall at least. The fans have expectations that a match will be arranged between Billy Perkins and Burrell Smith, the colored man. Such a tilt would be worth witnessing. The last time Perkins and Smith clashed the result was a draw.

Order of Hearing Petition to Sell Real Estate to Pay Debts, Etc.

State of Wisconsin, County Court for Oneida County.

In the matter of the Estate of Hans Hanson, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Hans Anderson, administrator of the estate of Hans Hanson deceased, representing among other things that said deceased died seized of certain real estate therein described, and that it is necessary to sell or incumber the same to pay the debts of said deceased, and praying for license to sell the same, and it appearing to the Court that the personal estate in the hands of said administrator is insufficient to pay the debts of the said deceased, and expenses of administration, and that it is necessary to sell or incumber all of said real estate for that purpose.

It is ordered, that said petition be heard at a Special Term of said County Court, to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Rhinelander, on the third Tuesday (being the 18th day) of June A. D. 1912 at 10 o'clock A. M.

It is further ordered, that this order be published at least three successive weeks, before said day fixed for the hearing of said petition, in The New North, a weekly newspaper, published at the City of Rhinelander in said County, and that a copy thereof be served personally on Hans Hanson, widow of Hans Hanson, Special Guardian for Henry Hanson, Olga Samuelson, Thorvald Hanson and Carl Hanson; that a copy thereof be served on the Clerk of the County, and personally on all persons interested in said estate and residing in said County, at least twenty days before such day. Dated May 21, 1912.

By the Court: LEVI J. BIRCH, County Judge.

Hosmer Baking Powder Plant May Leave Rhinelander

H. H. Hosmer of this city is endeavoring to organize a company at Merrill for the purpose of building a factory for the manufacture of candy and baking powder. Mr. Hosmer's baking powder plant in this city is located on Thayer street and it is to be regretted that he is attempting to move the industry to Merrill. It is such institutions as this that helps to put Rhinelander on the map. Something should remain here.

Here is what the Merrill Herald says of Mr. Hosmer's proposition. "H. H. Hosmer of Rhinelander, was asked to present his plan of organizing in Merrill a baking powder and confectionary business with $50,000 capital, to the members present. Mr. Hosmer gave a brief account of what he believed ought to be done, stating that the baking powder business was a most profitable one and that while the local baking powder business was getting a foot hold, it was his plan to make the candy business pay for the expenses of the baking powder project. He remarked that he was conversant with the jobbing business and that paper bags and other lines could be incorporated with the industry. He would be willing to invest $2,500 in the project. A committee of merchants was appointed by the mayor to meet Mr. Hosmer in reference to the matter and to look into the project, with instructions to report to the Chamber of Commerce in the course of a week.

BARNES'S BOOM EXPLODES
The boom which was sprung for Justice John Barnes as Democratic candidate for governor, appears to have exploded. This was assisted by a reported statement from the judge that he would not be a candidate. Judge Barnes could not be a candidate for any office not of a judicial nature. The constitution of the state, article 7, section 10, says: "The judges of supreme and circuit courts shall receive no fees or other compensation than their salaries; they shall hold no office of public trust, except a judicial office, during the time for which they are respectively elected, and all votes for either of them for any office, except a judicial office, given by the legislature or the people, shall be void."

MUST HAVE PAPERS TO VOTE
There seems to be a great deal of misunderstanding in general throughout the state regarding people with first papers voting. Many believe that those who declare their intention of becoming citizens, that is those who have their first papers may vote at the fall election.

This is an error and a careful perusal of the law will show that only those persons of foreign birth who declared their intentions to become citizens, prior to December 1, 1908, will be entitled to vote without final naturalization papers until December 1, 1912.

Those persons who have taken out their first papers since December 1, 1908, are not allowed to vote this year at any of the elections, nor any of the elections until final papers are secured. This ruling will prevent many from casting their lot this year who have done so in other years.

WIGDERSON STORE OPENS
Crowds of Buyers Take Advantage of Big Sale

The taking of inventory at the Wigderston store (formerly Jacobson's) was completed Tuesday and the doors were opened to the public Wednesday morning. A big sale is now in progress and will continue until the present stock has been depleted sufficiently to permit work on the remodeling of the store. New floor space will be arranged and several new departments added. When this task has been finished the store will be stocked with one of the largest assortments of new and up-to-date merchandise ever brought to northern Wisconsin.

The scene at the Wigderston store this week is one of exceptional activity. Buyers swarm the establishment continually requiring the services of a score of clerks.

Mr. Roman, an experienced mercantile man, will manage Mr. Wigderston's interests here.

TEDDY WINS BIG VICTORY IN OHIO

Roosevelt Receives 32 Out of 42 Delegates In Taft's Own State

A sweeping Republican victory for ex-President Roosevelt for presidency, and for Gov. Judson Harmon for the Democratic choice was the result of the statewide primary in Ohio. One of Ohio's "favorite sons," President Taft, lost.

Cel. Roosevelt has a plurality of 20,000 or more as expressed through the selection of delegates to the national convention. Taft so far has carried but three entire districts. There is a division in two others. This gives Roosevelt at least thirty-two delegates and Taft a maximum of ten.

Despite the close fight between Taft and Roosevelt, United States Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, received remarkable support, particularly in Columbus, Cleveland and Toledo precincts, where he was credited with several thousand votes. In Wood county near Toledo, Senator LaFollette ran second to Roosevelt.

Senator LaFollette obtained his heaviest vote in the Twenty-first district, when he polled 4,163 votes. In Fulton county, LaFollette got more votes than Taft. In the Twentieth, comprising half of Cleveland, LaFollette ran ahead of Taft. This was true in Medina and Lake counties and in the country districts outside of Cleveland.

CITY WILL HONOR THE NATION'S DEAD

Arrangements Complete For Observance of Memorial Day Here

Next Thursday, Memorial Day, the citizens of Rhinelander will pay fitting tribute to the departed heroes of the nation who sleep in Forest Home and St. Mary's cemeteries.

The observance of the day will be in charge of Company L and all residents are requested to assist in commemorating the occasion.

Captain D. H. Walker has issued invitations to all lodges and organizations of the city, including the pupils of the public and parochial schools and the Boy Scouts, to participate in the parade from the city to Forest Home Cemetery. Citizens in carriages are also asked to take part in the procession which will form at the Armory at 9:30 o'clock A. M.

The line of march will be through the principal business streets of the city to Forest Home where the day's exercises will be held. Below is the program:

Music—Military Band.
Prayer—Father Johnson.
Reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.
Oration—Attorney A. J. O'Melia.
Dedication of graves of war veterans.

Firing of salute and music by band. A firing squad composed of Company L members will march to St. Mary's cemetery, following the exercises to fire a volley over the graves of Catholic soldiers.

G. A. R. members will have charge of the decorations and all contributions of flowers will be gladly received.

SELL ALL DESCRIPTIONS

Many Bidders Attend the Delinquent Tax Sale

County Treasurer Carl Krueger states that the delinquent tax sale Tuesday was most successful and every description was disposed of. The bidding was lively from the opening to the close of the sale.

The greater number of sales was made to the same heavy bidders who have made purchases in previous years. These include L. A. Doolittle of Eau Claire, Mrs. Kate Pier of Milwaukee, Geo. Marshall of Woodboro, Mrs. Jenny Douglas of Milwaukee, and Oscar Jenne, Otto Krantz, C. A. Wilson, C. Eby, and Phillip Rogers for the Brown Bros. Lumber Company of this city.

E. C. Sturdevant was present looking chiefly after the interests of the small buyers.

HEAR SEIBEL CASE

Certiorari Proceedings Before Judge A. H. Reid, Monday

Certiorari proceedings to review the action of the common council of this city in revoking the retail liquor license of A. H. Seibel were taken up before Judge A. H. Reid, of this circuit, at Wausau, Monday afternoon.

Attorneys Miller and Reers appeared for Mr. Seibel and Attorney Van Hecke of Merrill was for the city of Rhinelander.

A decision in the matter is expected the latter part of this week.

WILL PUSH WORK ON NEW HIGHWAY

Part Of The Rhinelander-Cassian Road Will Be Finished This Season

In company with members of the county committee Mr. Hirst of the state highway commission went over the route of the proposed road from the western part of the county to the city Friday. After the inspection a meeting was held at the court house at which it was decided to proceed at once with the work of constructing the road. The state will do the grading. The job of jumping three miles of the road will be let by contract to the lowest bidder.

Operations will be started from this city and pushed westward so that farmers will be able to drive here as soon as their portion of the highway is completed.

Henry Wubker, of the county board is anxious that the work be pushed rapidly and is doing all in his power toward this end.

In this issue of the New North appears notice for bids for construction work and for supply outfits to be used on the building of the road.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

Price—The land we live in. An authoritative work on the conservation of forests, rivers, minerals and the other natural resources, but because of its simple, direct explanations of what conservation is and why it is necessary. It is interesting and instructive to adults as well as children. Gifford Pinchot contributes a "forward." The 140 photographic illustrations are exceptionally beautiful. Some of the chapter headings are: America three hundred years ago; America today; How the forest is used abroad and at home; The treasures underground; Wild life; The rivers. This book will be a source of pleasure and helpfulness to the grown person as well as to the boy.

Moncrief—Highlands and Islands of Scotland. Interesting descriptions of Scotland, together with 40 beautiful full-page illustrations in color.

Report of the Wisconsin Monument Commission appointed to erect a monument at Andersonville, Georgia; with other interesting matter pertaining to the prison.

Wilbur—Life of Mary Baker Eddy. Glover—"Lame Cursey's" book of guessing contests.

Fiction. Gynold—Grandma. Second copies. Barclay—The Recary.

Tarkington—Gentleman from Indiana.

Juvenile. Baker—Boys' book of inventions. One of the best of its kind.

O'Shea—Old world wonder stories. Merz—Louise, Queen of Prussia. The only separate biography for girls of the beautiful and noble queen held in loving remembrance as the "mother of her people." The story of her youth and life as crown princess and queen is largely told in interesting anecdotes, but there is a connected account of her misfortunes, sacrifices and humiliations during Napoleon's campaign against Prussia.

SENT TO ASYLUM

Fred Lusher, a resident of McNaughton, was committed to the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Winnebago by County Judge Billings Wednesday. He was taken to the asylum today by Under-sheriff Mundson and Lenn Markham.

MARRY AT BESSEMER

Miss Effie Morrison of Oconto and Eugene Bellore of Ironwood were married at Bessemer, Mich., Tuesday morning. Miss Irene LaBlanc was bridesmaid and Ray Raymond was best man. The bride is the sister of Mrs. H. E. Osborne of this city. Mr. Bellore is a Northwestern locomotive fireman.

After a trip through the western states the couple will go to Antigo where they will make their residence.

Bert Raymond of Antigo returned home Saturday after a short visit with his sister, Mrs. R. J. Morter.

IT has been truly said that languages exist for the purpose of giving expression to our thoughts. It has been said with equal force that one of the uses of the language is to hide our true thoughts. The Mail Order Houses understand this and in their department of literature they are careful to secure men who can hide the truth by a skillful use of language. The Mail Order Houses as a matter of cold fact cannot undersell the Good Merchant in a city like Rhinelander but by skillful use of the King's English they can make a lot of people think they can and that is how they get the most of their business. They fool people. Abraham Lincoln said: "You can fool all of the people part of the time, part of the people all of the time but you cannot fool all the people all of the time."

NEWMAIL CARRIER ON DUTY MONDAY

City Free Delivery Service Has Been Extended to the West Side

Beginning next Monday the new mail carrier for the city service, later recommended by Post-office Inspector Kittich, will be put on duty by the department. Howard Reed, Jr., has received the appointment to this position.

The territory which the fourth carrier will cover will include the west side. This addition to the carrier service will give the entire city two deliveries a day. This will benefit the east side and extreme part of the north side which have heretofore had only one delivery a day.

Patrons on the new route must provide themselves with suitable mail boxes.

The mail routes in the city will necessarily be changed so that each carrier will have a more even proportion of work.

FORM NEW ORCHESTRA

A new orchestra has been organized in this city under the direction of John J. Brueggeman. This orchestra is composed of some of the city's best musical talent. Music will be furnished for dances, parties, weddings and all social functions. Prof. Brueggeman has been in the city for the past two years and is a brilliant musician.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE EXHIBIT

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock a domestic science exhibit by pupils of the public schools will be held at the Curran school building. The exhibit will consist mainly of sewing. Light refreshments will be served and a pressing invitation is extended to all parents.

MINOCQUA

Harry Meyer made a business trip to Rhinelander Tuesday.

Miss Anna Heyden left Saturday for her home at Eagle River.

Mrs. Henry Hanson and daughter Ruth spent Sunday with friends at Wausau.

The little son of S. Ray was taken to Wausau Monday where he will be operated on for appendicitis.

Mrs. Ed. Berry of Glendive, Mont., has arrived at the home of her sister Mrs. D. L. Jenkinson to make an extended visit.

The families of W. Schlecht and Theo. Bosaki made the drive to Eagle River, Saturday and returned Sunday.

A. Wolk and brother of Seymour, Wis., arrived Tuesday and have begun the work of laying the cement walks about town.

Mrs. Roy Hannon who has been seriously ill and is not improving was taken to the Wausau hospital Wednesday where it is hoped she will regain her strength.

Minocqua high school celebrated another victory Friday night and Saturday because Margaret Marvin was awarded first place at Wausau on Friday night in the District contest. She goes to Delavan to take part in the state contest May 26. On the same night Harvey McFarland goes to Wausau to take part in the boys' oratorical contest.

DOUBLE WEDDING

A double wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage Saturday evening. Miss Christine McNeil and August Reitch and Miss May Perry and Hugo Donn, all of Rhinelander were the contracting parties.

T. W. Anderson, whose wife recently passed away at Stevens Point, is in the city a guest of the Brown families.

At Lake George Saturday the High school Juniors participated in a picnic. Miss Kuehsted and Mr. Miller were also present.

Misses Eva and Irene Jacobs and E. J. C. returned to Green Lake Wednesday after a visit in this city with their son, Mrs. H. E. Osborne.

The Freshmen and Sophomore classes of the High school enjoyed a picnic at Moon's lakes Saturday. Miss Rautman and Mr. Hurr were in charge.

Mrs. Ora Porter Grant leaves tonight for Everett, Wash., in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of an intimate acquaintance there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCullough of Ashland were guests Monday and Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Seibel. They were on their way home from Laurel, Miss.

The O. N. T. card club closed the season Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. A. Harrison where a banquet was given in honor of the high lady, Mrs. E. A. Forbes.

Miss Abbie Matheson and Frank Gustafson were married by Rev. Clemens at Crescent Saturday. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. Gustafson. Ed. Christian and family of Hortonville were in attendance at the wedding.

One of the prettiest social gatherings of the year was the dancing party given by the Bachelor Maids at Gilligan's hall Friday evening. The attendance was large and dancing to music furnished by the Military orchestra was continued until after midnight.

Mrs. D. Kirk entertained at cards Friday evening in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. Maloney of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Owen Leonard of this city. Prizes were won by Misses Frances and Josephine Quinlan.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Seibel returned Wednesday from Manitowish where they attended the funeral of Mr. Seibel's brother, John Seibel, mention of whose illness was made in last week's paper. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Seibel were also at the funeral and will return home the last of the present week.

To talk really well to a woman, one has to be in love with another.—John Massfield

Simple Way to Make Sizes.
The Maoris, inhabitants of the South Sea Islands, found themselves once in possession of a supply of shoes. Instead of seeking suitable sizes they cut off their toes to fit the shoes whenever it was necessary.

Notice of Sale of Mortgage Foreclosure

State of Wisconsin, in Circuit Court, Oneida County.
Mary M. Lowell Plaintiff, vs. Edward Fredrickson, Defendant.
By virtue of a judgment of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action on the 2nd day of May 1912 and an order entered on the foot of said judgment May 2nd, 1912, the undersigned sheriff of Oneida County, Wisconsin, will sell at the front door of the court house in the city of Rhinelander, County of Oneida, Wisconsin, on the 6th day of July, 1912 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of said day the real estate and mortgaged premises therein directed, as follows:
The southeast quarter (S. E. 1/4) of the southwest (S. W. 1/4) of Section sixteen (16), Township Thirty-six (36) North, Range nine (9) East, all situated in the County of Oneida, State of Wisconsin.
In pursuance of the said judgment the whole of the said lands will be sold together. Terms of sale cash.
Dated May 2nd, 1912.
R. J. MORTER, Plt. Atty.
Chas. A. GORRIST, Sheriff of Oneida County.

Toasts Worth Recording.

A rustic English saying runs: "Here's to the poor man. May his beef and beer keep on increasing year by year. May his dear little wife be the joy of his life and never kick up a racket. May she do all she can to please her old man and mend up his old ragged jacket." Better still is this version: "Here's to the loaf that never crumbles; here's to the wife that never grumbles; here's to the horse that never stumbles." To which one might be tempted to add: "Here's to hope."

Westminster Abbey in History.
Westminster Abbey has played a more important part in the world's history in the last thousand years than any other one building. It is believed to be two thousand years since the first building was put where the present abbey stands. That was a heathen temple. It is supposed this was pulled down in the year 175 to make room for a church which a British king named Lucius built in order that he might have the Christian faith taught.

Bitter With the Sweet.
Auntie (who is housekeeping during mother's enforced absence)—Now, you see, children, I have made you a pudding—(murmurs of approval)—and there won't be any trouble over getting you to take medicine tonight, for I am not going to give you any. (Loud applause.) I have, however, mixed the pills and draughts and powders up with the ingredients of the pudding." (Groans.)—Tit Bits.

'Tis Generally.
"Gent" is the most offensive of all abbreviations, and Justice Wightman once construed it very aptly. In a case tried before him a witness referred to one of the parties as "an independent gent." "An independent what?" said Wightman. "A gent, my lord," repeated the witness. "Oh, I understand," replied the judge, "that's something short of a gentleman, isn't it?"—London Chronicle.

Squirrel Was the Messenger.
The occupants of a house at West Medway, in Norfolk county, Virginia, were astonished at finding continually in the fireplace small pieces of paper that had been dropped down the chimney from some mysterious source. When the owner began watching outside the house he saw a squirrel run up the roof and enter the chimney. It was concluded that the messages had been sent down by the squirrel.

Need Mental Stimulation.
Some people live in ruts and think in ruts. They vary their lives little, and the routine of their thoughts leads, and their bodies get stodgy. Their senses are listless, their skin becomes sallow, they need waking-up, and their wakening needs to be mental. They want mental stimulation, and if this stimulation is to show itself forth in the form of beauty, it should be pleasant.

No Snake in It.
"Did she leave her business in good shape?" "No; she couldn't. There is no shape in her business. She's a fashionable dressmaker."

Concrete Perfectly Handled.
A summer house in Havana built of concrete is made to represent a log and straw hut, and the illusion is said to be perfect, even after close examination.

Carried Their Own Spoons.
The cry is now for the individual drinking cup. In Queen Elizabeth's time every guest at a banquet brought his own spoon with him.

Onense Trust Defense.
Butler (entertaining a few friends in the absence of his master, who has returned unexpectedly)—"Most unwarrantable intrusion, sir; with respect, I beg to give notice."—Punch.

Where Tea is Eaten.
The tea grown in Burmah is almost entirely made into letpet (pickled tea) and eaten as a condiment. It therefore does not affect the world's supply of tea for drinking.

ENTERPRISE

Lynn Vaughan, surveyor, from Rhineland was surveying the town cemetery and laid it out in lots.

Mr. Carlson finished his job of putting a foundation under the town hall Tuesday.

The school of Dist. No. 1, will close Wednesday for this term.

A sudden surprise party was held on Mrs. Geo. Keeler, Saturday, where the young folks enjoyed a pleasant time.

Nels Johnson was on the sick list for several days last week.

Several families of Indians have established their huts at the west shore of Pelican Lake.

Adolph Kushman was at Antigo, Monday, on business.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Roman Kapsanski from Crandon are visitors at Berdians.

The farmers are busy putting in their potato crop this week.

B. N. Moran passed through here for Siding Seven to inspect the cedar which Chas. Hasting logged during the winter.

The town board was at Parish Jet, Monday looking over roads which will be cut through to Enterprise in the near future.

Since the weather is so cold this year the friendly mosquitoes are somewhat behind time.

WICKLOW

The Royal Neighbors met with Mrs. Roy Conant at Bradley last Saturday.

Don't forget the services in the M. E. church here first Sunday in June.

Ole Stensrud went to Rhineland Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Buckbe and Howard Lee made a business trip to Tomahawk Monday.

The Brown children went to Tomahawk Saturday and took in the show in the evening returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Buslett of Rhineland and Mrs. Foss and Sandy of Tomahawk attended the R. N. A. meeting at Conant's Saturday.

A Grange lodge was organized here Saturday to be known as Prairie Lake Grange; there will be another meeting held May 31.

Arthur Taylor was at Elcho Wednesday.

Over the Fallen Heroes

With crepe upon our banners
And arms reversed, we kneel
In memory of the soldiers
Spectralized at our feet.
They are the voiceless heroes
Who spoke where the field was red—
Spoke when the captain ordered
"Fire from behind the dead."

They came from farm and village,
From crowded city and plain;
They marched in the sunny sunshine,
And followed their heads in rain.
They heard the blast of the bugle,
And quickly answered the call
"Form in line of battle—
Infantry, troopers, all."

Some of these dropped by the wayside,
Some while on picket were shot—
Some fell in the skirmish line—
Some where the battle raged hot.
But, alas, for the youthful soldier,
Alas, for the veteran gray,
Who languished in pitiless prisons
Where the reaper, Death, held sway—

Dreaming of days they could not see—
Hoping where hope was vain
To break the guarded prison bars
And breathe free air again.
Yearning for wife or mother—
Yearning to be cared,
Or longing with broken spirit
To be, like these, at rest.

Over these dead nine hundred
Fold the flag of the brave,
While the marching column hails to pass
A flag at each soldier's grave.
Violent, pink and daisies,
Roses and lilies bring,
When the apple trees are in blossom,
And the lark and the linnet sing.

LEARNING THE LESSON THAT ALL MAY LEARN

To Be Drawn From the Patriotism and Tenderness That the Memories of the Day Evoke.

Under the sod and the dew
Waiting the judgment day;
Love and tears for the blue,
Tears and love for the gray.

While we lay the wreaths of affectionate remembrance over the mounded graves in "God's acre" let us resolve anew to be more patient with the living, more kindly affectionate one with another, not waiting to break our alabaster boxes of fragrant ointment and strew our flowers over the silent clay when the heart they would have cheered has stopped its beating forever. If you love your sister or your neighbor, tell her so. If the children do little thoughtful things for your comfort tell them how much you appreciate it. If you think they are doing well in school let them know you are proud of them; and if the little son or daughter looks well, tell them so unless they are insufferable little pigs and need holding down. Few people are injured by honest words of commendation. As a rule it calls them to do their best in order to live up to the standard you have set. Another thing, don't wait to have your good times together until "by and by." Have them now. In the days to come the family circle may be broken and though you may have more time and money then, there will be aching hearts when you think how father or sister or brother "would have enjoyed this." Make more of the holidays.

Beautiful Grand Army Habit.

It is no improper exposure of the "lodge" work of the Grand Army of the Republic to call attention to a most beautiful and effective method of the order in dispensing kindness and paying tribute to members.

In each meeting of a post inquiry is made concerning the number and names of those incapacitated by sickness from attending the gathering. When the list is completed formal order is made that flowers be sent to the bedside of each sufferer.

Further, if any of the sick are known to be in desperate financial circumstances, a five-dollar bill, or one of larger denomination, goes with the flowers.

Thus do the defenders and saviors of the government and of the nation remember and pay tribute to their comrades in hours of suffering and want.

Logical Progress.

"The new show went like a breeze."

"I was told the backer had to send a lot of drafts."

"My dear," said young Mrs. Allison, peeling off her gloves and flinging them down with a snap, "you did well when you renounced the frivolities of life."

"When I—er—what?" gasped the matron with auburn hair, as she dropped an extra lump of sugar into her caller's tea and set the cup down hurriedly.

"Well, why not?" inquired young Mrs. Allison. "That will do, dear, I take only two lumps, not the whole bowlful."

"Explain yourself, Celeste!" demanded the young matron with auburn hair, severely. "Has any one been saying that I am getting fat and stolid or is this your inflexible way of criticizing my winter wardrobe?"

Young Mrs. Allison smiled inscrutably.

"Celeste," said her hostess, again, sharply, "if you weren't my best friend I should call that a positive grin."

Young Mrs. Allison continued to grin, happily. "Well, she said, after selecting the thinnest sandwich on the tray and biting into it with caution, 'to begin with, you've moved to a suburb, haven't you?'"

"U-m-m; is that all?"

"No, but that's one thing."

"Very well; what next?"

"And you've stopped wearing false hair."

"Why, yes, so I have," admitted the hostess, tranquilly. "I got tired of the messy stuff, and when I happened to think it over I couldn't see any reason why I shouldn't let my hair stand on its own merits."

"Exactly," agreed young Mrs. Allison. "Thirdly, you've dropped the bridge cloth!"

The matron with auburn hair sighed. "I had to," she explained. "And," she added, with a sudden burst of confidence, "you've no idea, dearest, what a relief it is. For two years, once a week, I've hooked myself into my best clothes and sat at all of a pleasant sunny afternoon in some one's stuffy drawing room gambling for, let us say, a green sunshade that would make me look, if I won it, like a horse show poster. I have partaken enthusiastically of siruplike ice creams and oily salads forty-five minutes before dinner hour." She paused for breath and smiled suddenly upon her caller.

"Instead of all that," she concluded, "I now repose in this easy chair with a book and a box of chocolates, which achieve the same effect upon my appetite, but are less strenuous."

"Nonsense," said young Mrs. Allison. "You're losing the social instinct, that's all! All suburbanites do. But, as I remarked to begin with, you have adopted the wise course."

She frowned thoughtfully, while her hostess waited in silence.

"Well?" her hostess demanded, finally.

"It's very tragic," said young Mrs. Allison. "You know my Aunt Elvira?"

The matron with auburn hair nodded. "The poor woman who was, so ill at your house last summer," she said.

"Poor nothing," contradicted young Mrs. Allison, sternly. "There's nothing the matter with Aunt Elvira, but imaginary diseases. She's so crabbed that her own children won't live with her, and she's so rich that her other relatives have to. She takes a private car down to Florida every winter, and I had thought that Fred and I could make rather pleasant use of an invitation to go with her this year, because Fred didn't get any vacation in the summer."

"Well, my love, last week Saturday I positively dragged Fred home from the office to go out to the Country club with me in the afternoon. I felt that my system demanded the diversion and I didn't want to go alone. It was a horrid, chilly trip and our supper out there was miserable. When we got home this is the message written on Aunt Elvira's visiting card that met me in the hand of the maid:

"Dear Celeste—I'm sorry you couldn't take time from your pursuit of pleasure to comfort my tired and travel stained self. I'm going over to Cousin Emma's. Respectfully, A. E."

The matron with auburn hair gasped. "But did you know she was coming?" she asked.

"Oh, no," said young Mrs. Allison, composedly, "not having a sixth sense for her arrivals in town. It's just one of her little eccentricities, that's all! Cousin Emma goes to Florida on Thursday," she added, sadly.

"Well, of all things!" cried the matron with auburn hair, sympathetically. "After you and Fred had it all planned!"

"Well," admitted young Mrs. Allison, slowly, "as a matter of fact, Fred hadn't planned exactly. He seemed positively to enjoy the situation. He said he had a picture of himself going, anyway. And he added that he'd rather pound rocks than to go anywhere with Aunt Elvira. Good-by, dear; I'm going to join your easy chair brigade and do my hair fat in the back."

Logical Progress.

"I was told the backer had to send a lot of drafts."

"My dear," said young Mrs. Allison, peeling off her gloves and flinging them down with a snap, "you did well when you renounced the frivolities of life."

FARMERS MUST FURNISH BETTER CREAM

The whole cream wagon should be covered to protect the cans from the direct rays of the sun. The cream cans need protection more than the driver.

BY PROF. C. E. LEE,
Wisconsin College of Agriculture.
All milk and cream producers of Wisconsin who are selling their product to creameries to be made into butter are indirectly responsible for the quality of butter manufactured.

The creamery patrons of any community should take pride in the quality of butter that the buttermaker puts onto the market. As a rule the creamery operators know how to make a good commercial butter when they have good milk or cream delivered to the factory. No one can make fancy butter out of milk or cream that has lost its original flavor, and has become more or less tainted in handling and storing on the farm.

As an average the best grade of butter in Wisconsin is made in the creameries that receive nothing but whole milk. There are some of these creameries that do not make as good butter as they should because the milk is too old and tainted, but the average of them put the butter safely within the requirement for highest grade on any market.

Bulletin 210 gives the following table showing the quality of butter;
as indicated by the scoring exhibitions:

Period	Number of Exhibitors	Average Score	Number of Exhibitors	Average Score	Number of Exhibitors	Average Score
May 1907 to May 1908	114	92.10	121	92.1	129	92.45
May 1908 to May 1909	114	92.15	123	92.25	123	91.75
May 1909 to May 1910	130	92.75	95	92.11	123	91.24
May 1910 to May 1911	88	92.35	114	92.75	115	91.75

Out of the 155 tubs of butter exhibited at the state convention at Green Bay by Wisconsin men only 22 were made in creameries receiving whole milk. The average score of this butter was 94.21 with 81 per cent. of the exhibits receiving a score of 93 and better. When butter scores 93 it is good. Nineteen per cent. of these exhibits, however, did not come up to the requirements of good butter.
There were exhibited at this convention 80 tubs of butter made in creameries that received nothing but farm skimmed cream and the average of all of this butter was 92.6 or nearly two points lower than the butter made from whole milk. There were 63.8 per cent. of these tubs that in quality would not pass the requirements (or 93) for highest grade. On the other hand the 53 men who made butter in factories receiving both milk and cream, made butter that scored an average of 93.6, or one point higher than that made from all gathered cream. In this lot only one-third of the butter did not score high enough to pass as extra. This is further evidence that the milk has its good influence upon the quality of the butter.
Some of Wisconsin's best butter makers are working in factories that handle cream only, but cannot make a high scoring tub because they are handicapped by the kind of cream their patrons deliver.

If the butter makers from your county did not make the highest scoring butter at the state convention recently held at Green Bay, do not blame them. Consider what part you had in it. In nearly every case when patrons learn that the butter maker at their factory made the winning tub or highest in the district, they invariably give the butter maker all of the credit. By rights a great deal of the honor belongs to the patrons. Butter made in factories that receive nothing but cream should be just as good as the butter made in whole milk creameries, but the difference lies in the way the milk and cream is cared for. If milk is not properly handled on the farm it will taint the butter fully as much as if the farmer skimmed that milk and gave the cream no better care than he would give the milk.

(1) Cream is tainted because the milk is not always produced under conditions that are favorable, such as a poorly ventilated barn, cows not bedded become more or less covered on hindquarters with manure. Milk-ers are careless. Some do not understand why it is so necessary to wear clean clothes, milk with clean, dry hands, into a clean tin pail.
(2) Milk and cream must be stored in a room free from taints of any kind. During the winter months milk

BUYING NURSERY STOCK

By PROF. J. G. SANDERS,
Wisconsin College of Agriculture.
At this time of year most home loving Wisconsin farmers are thinking of setting out new nursery stock.
This is an important thing and inasmuch as nursery stock costs good money and requires considerable time to develop nothing but the best should be used. There are a great many widely advertised new varieties of fruits that are not at all good. The best thing to do is to select old tried varieties or get definite information about the new varieties from your state experiment station.

Wisconsin has a good nursery inspection law which requires that every nurseryman selling stock in the state shall display a certificate signed by the nursery inspector. Whenever an agent tries to sell you nursery stock, ask him to show you his certificate card and if he does not have it it is not safe to buy from him. Some persons think that it is best to buy from the larger nurseries. As a rule, this is not true. Very often smaller concerns give better attention to orders. Whenever a nurseryman attempts to substitute unknown varieties for something you want that he claims he is out of, insist that he return your money or select other varieties that you know are good.

LET THE CHICKENS FERTILIZE GARDEN.

Where a small flock of fowls is kept and a small garden is cultivated each year, the chickens can be made to fertilize the garden. Build a chicken tight fence around the back lot, and divide it in the middle into two yards.
One year let the chickens run on one side of the house and plant the garden on the other. The next year, change about, and you will find that the garden planted in the chicken yard of the year before will have been well fertilized and your crops much better than if this rotation had not been followed.

BOARDING HOUSE BURNS

City's Early Landmark Goes Up in Smoke

Fire at three o'clock Saturday morning nearly completely destroyed Brown Brothers' boarding house on Thayer street. The origin of the blaze is not known, but it is thought to have been started by tramps, who were spending the night on the premises. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The structure was one of the landmarks of Rhinelander and was built in 1882. It was a wooden frame building of two stories. For some years past the house had not been in use.

Both fire companies responded to the alarm Saturday morning.

ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Mary Pettie, a mid-wife of this city, was arrested Tuesday on the charge of practicing her profession without a license. The case will come up this afternoon before Judge Walker in municipal court. The offense with which the woman is charged is a grave one in the eyes of the law.

FARMERS TO SEE FINE LIVE STOCK

Everybody Urged To Turn Out And Witness State's Demonstration

County Representative E. L. Luther has received notice that the Wisconsin Live Stock Special train will stop at Rhinelander on Wednesday, June 5th, from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock p. m. This city is the most northern point to which the "Special" will run. The agricultural awakening which is taking place in this county seems to warrant the sending of the train to this county. The County Representative hopes that what the state is trying to do for Oneida County will be appreciated and that a large number of the farmers will turn out to see the stock and to hear the talks that are to be given by the professors from the College of Agriculture who are with the train. Our farmers' course was a hummer. Now let us make the visit of the stock train a chance to show the state that the farmers are awake up here. This train will stop at New London, Clintonville, Wittenberg, Shawano, Antigo, Rhinelander, Wausau, Edgar, Marshfield, Grand Rapids, Ripon, and Wautoma. Now it is up to the farmers of Oneida county to turn out a larger crowd than Langlade county does. Remember Wednesday, June 5th from 2 to 5 p. m.

The County Representative spent Saturday and Sunday in Three Lakes. That is a fine community over there and some day it will be a great one. The splendid soil, fine roads, big barns, comfortable houses and trim little town make it a splendid place in which to live and the splendid hospitality of the people makes it an inviting place for a stranger to go. The meetings were well attended. The farmers of Three Lakes are certainly interested. There are some good pushers over there and they are going to work together to advance the welfare of the town and vicinity. They are going after the prizes at the county fair and they feel pretty sure that they can win a good lot of them. When the motorcycle comes the County Representative is going to make a visit to every farm in the township.

Another fine community over that way is the Advent community, at Clear Water Lake. This community is only six years old and it is worth while to go to see it. Good comfortable houses, good clearings, and a very well regulated community. At most the whole community turned out to listen to the County Representative and it is very doubtful if it is possible to find in Wisconsin or any other state a six year old community that has done so well or that looks more prosperous or that is more orderly. Clear Water Lake is all right.

When one visits these rural communities and sees the comfort and the health and happiness and general welfare, he is led to wonder why it is that men and women will stick to the crowded cities and just work out a meagre existence when a much freer and more pleasant and healthful existence can be found out in Oneida county. The great free air, the great woods, the splendid lakes, a paradise for the coming to it. Why do not more men and women take up this life?

FIRST HEAVY STORM

Rhinelander experienced the first big rain and electrical storm of the season between the hours of midnight and six o'clock Wednesday morning. The water came down in one continual sheet and the lightning kept the sky in almost constant brilliancy. No serious damage was reported here.

Lack of Attendance at Brady-Mack Match

The ten round bout scheduled between Jimmy Brady of Michigan and Johnny Mack of Chicago at the Armory last Thursday night was declared off owing to small attendance. A number of other attractions were held in the city that night and this was the cause of the little interest in the match.

The few fans who gathered to see the contest were disappointed as an interesting go was expected. Promoter White returned the money to all who had purchased tickets.

Brady and Mack left the city Friday for Chicago. Paddy Dorrell is anxious to match Brady with Gene McGovern, a Milwaukee featherweight of reputation and it is probable that the boys may meet shortly.

LECTURES ON ASTRONOMY

"A Stroll Along the Milky Way"

was the subject of the lecture by Dr. Eaton, of Wisconsin University, at the M. E. church Wednesday evening. It is to be regretted that a larger audience did not hear the speaker as his talk was intensely interesting and full of instructive points on astronomy. The doctor illustrated his lecture with views of the heavenly bodies.

In his discussion Dr. Eaton compared the magnitude of the heavens with the smallness of man but concluded by saying that personality was the one big thing of the universe.

Realization Of An Ideal

A nice, comfortable, modern home at last—the realization of a life's ideal. Many an old couple have gone through life, living in a shack, because they possessed an exaggerated idea of the cost of a good, modern home.

Maybe you are wishing that your home was more modern, but you have the same idea about the cost. Why not let us make you an estimate on the material to build a new house, and satisfy yourself?

It will cost much less than you expect
